

Instructions to authors submitting manuscripts for the quarterly journal “Disability – issues, problems, solutions”

The following guidelines apply to the authors of publications from No. III/2012 (3)

I. The Editor accepts manuscripts for review and possible publication in the following sections:

- Medical aspects of disability
 - Rehabilitation
 - Socio-economic aspects of disability
 - Support system for people with disabilities
 - Engineering and technology
 - Employment
 - Reports, reviews, predictions, analyses
- as well as texts with the character of participation in the debate concerning the situation of the disabled people in Poland.

Manuscripts should be sent to the Editor via the following e-mail address:
kwartalnik@pfron.org.pl

II. Reviewing – information for authors

- Each publication is reviewed by two independent reviewers from the outside of the unit in which the author is affiliated.
- The authors and the reviewers, until the end of the reviewing process, do not know their own identity.
- Each review is given in a written form and it ends with a clear recommendation for approval for or rejection of the article from publication.
- After receiving the review, the authors are asked to make corrections to the manuscript as well as to respond to the review in a written form.
- In case of no remarks or corrections, the authors respond to the review in writing and then the manuscript is sent for the proof-reading.

III. Technical instructions concerning preparing the materials for the Publisher

- 15 pages minimum, preferably articles of at least one sheet length that is 22 pages, (44 pages maximum). Reviews or reports may be shorter
- in the left top corner: name and surname of the author/authors, affiliation (Institution)
- the title of the article, paper, report etc. (justified, bold), font 14, Times New Roman
- abstract/summary in Polish and in English

- key words (not less than 5 and not more than 8)
- subtitles (right side of the page, bold)
- A4 paper format
- text file in the *.rtf or *.doc format (Word 97 or later + special fonts introduced by the Author)
- font 12 Times New Roman
- interline 1,5 line
- left margin 3 cm, others about 2,5 cm
- one-sided printing
- text and bibliographical footnotes – font 10, with references in the top index
- uniform and continuous page numbering (pagination)
- division into indent paragraphs – at least 2-3 per page, to preserve the clarity of the content
- bibliographical and other footnotes should be put on the bottom of the page

ILLUSTRATIONS

- figures for publication must be of good resolution, uniform and have descriptions, this especially concerns multi-page paste-ins of very diverse illustrating material, to which contact prints are the basis of technical edition and which accelerate the work on the manuscript
- each figure should be submitted as a separate file, with a given filename (all the files in one folder), it should also be printed in the text or on a separate page
- photographs – *.tif files with a resolution not lower than 300 dpi with the required size of the reproduction, or in originals of good quality that allows scanning
- graphs – prepared in Corel Draw or Microsoft Excel (if they have to be edited during the editorial work)
- drawings – as *.cdr files or contrast, originals of good quality suitable for reproduction

ABSTRACTS

The authors of the publications are kindly requested to send a summary of their scientific paper together with the manuscript. Abstract, in a possibly condense form, with the largest number of key words, should present basic information about the article's thesis, the methods of research, as well as the most important results and conclusions. Abstract usually contains 150 up to 600 words. It should not include quotations and footnotes. The authors of the publication send to the Editor translation into English of the title, abstract and key words of their article.

BIBLIOGRAFICAL DATA – INSTRUCTION FOR AUTHORS

GENERAL REMARKS CONCERNING FOOTNOTES

- quotation or paraphrasing of the paper should be indicated: if it is a quotation, it is necessary to quote the work, out of which it comes, whereas in case of a paraphrase (use of certain information), then the bibliographical address is preceded by the abbreviation “see” or “cf”;
- Latin abbreviations should be consequently used; if the author decides to use “op. cit.” and “ibidem”, then he or she should also use “idem”, “eadem”, “loc.cit.”, “passim” etc.;
- The bibliographical address of a work which is mentioned for the first time in a footnote must be presented in details – one should remember about the name of the publisher, year of publication, volume, page, but, also, in case of a work written in a foreign language – about the translator (whose name should be mentioned immediately after the title, with the abbreviation “transl.”). If the author of the article is translating the foreign text on his own, he or she should indicate it at the end of the bibliographical description, in brackets – (transl. by the author);
- For Internet websites that are cited in footnotes (as well as in bibliography), the date of access should be indicated.

ATTENTION!!

Due to various systems of coding formats, styles and Polish letters, the manuscript should be saved as a formatted RTF text, with the .rtf extension, regardless of the text editor that was used (when using different editor that was utilized for manuscript preparation, it may be impossible to open files with such extensions as *.doc, *.docx, and *.odt). In order to save the manuscript as a .rtf file, in the “File” menu choose “Save as”, then open the list in the window “Save as type” and choose “formatted RTF file” or „Rich Text Format”.
